Favorable reports have been received from the Poente Oil District in Los Angeles county. Two wells are being pumped, one of which is 150 and the other 300 feet deep. A third well, twelve inches in diameter, is now down over 100 feet and still marching on, while the machinery for a fourth well is nearly all secured, and brings satisfactory prices.

A Grand Irrigation Scheme.

According to the San Bernardino Times, Governor Stanford has under consideration a grand irrigation scheme which, if executed, will surpass anything before attempted in the State. It is to create immense reservoirs in Lytle creek, Santa Ana and Mill creek canyons, conserving of course, existing water rights, and providing in their stead a uniform supply and by storing the Winter water create a supply sufficient to irrigate a scope of country including the entire plain between San Bernardino and Panama, as well as San Bernardino valley and the plains lying east and south of Riverside.

301 N. Fremont St., Baltimore

During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving.

MORE ABOUT RETRENCHMENT.
 The Carson Tribune contains the following in reply to an article published in the GAZETTE on the 6th, relative to retrenchment and reform in our State department:

Although in favor of the retrenchment of State expenses as far as consistent, we most strenuously oppose the reduction spoken of in the Reno GAZETTE, believing that the present salaries paid to State officials to be none too much for the work they are called upon to perform. If first-class men are desirable it is no more than right to give them such emolument as will enable them to support themselves and the dignity of their offices. To secure an election of money is needed during the election campaign. In fact in almost every instance those who have gained the position have retired poorer than when they took their seats.

The GAZETTE took the ground that we had too many officers and the officers were allowed too many clerks to do the business for less than 50,000 people, and suggested that the Governor's salary of $5,000 per annum was too much. We believe in paying good salaries, but we do not think a government that pays one twenty-seventh part of its entire taxable property every year to run the public machinery is good. We do not think the people of this State can prosper until something is done to make our State and county expenses lighter. We believe that if the number of our State officers should be reduced we would have just as good a government as we now have.

The Tribune says: "To secure an election to the office of Governor a large sum of money is needed during the election campaign," and offers that as a reason why the salary of that official should not be reduced. To pay the Governor of Nevada $5,000 per annum that he may have more money to spend for election campaign purposes seems to us to be a poor argument, bad logic and unjust to those who are obliged to bear the burden of supporting the State Government. Is it surprising that Nevada is so frequently spoken of as the "rotten borough" if the Tribune reason is good? Why cannot the Governor of Nevada live, and live well, be dignified and respected on $4,000 per annum?

Alabama, with a population of 1,000,000, pays her chief Executive $3,000; Arizona has nearly as many inhabitants as Nevada and she has no trouble in finding a good man to govern her people at a salary of $2,800; Arkansas with a population of 484,471 pays her Governor but $3,500; Connecticut, with half a million, pays but $2,000; Delaware with 125,000 pays but $2,000; Georgia with over 1,000,000 pays $3,000; Illinois with over 2,500,000 pays $6,000; Iowa with 1,100,000 pays $3,000; New Hampshire with 330,000 pays $1,000; Maine with 627,000 pays $2,500; Michigan with 1,184,000 pays but $1,000; the great State of Ohio with 2,600,000 pays but $4,000. And so it goes through the whole list. The salaries range from $1,000 to $10,000, and but twelve States in the Union pay their Governor over $4,000, and Nevada, with a handful of people, is included in that list.

The Governors of other States are dignified and respected on much less salary than Nevada pays, and it does not seem right for the "battle-born" to burden the people with excessive taxation to keep up so expensive a State government. We opine that the people would be better satisfied if they did not have to pay for quite so much dignity.

The Tribune agrees with the GAZETTE that the office of private secretary should be abolished. On the proposition of abolishing the office of Lieutenant-Governor, the Tribune says:

We differ with the GAZETTE as to the necessity for a Lieutenant-Governor, for that office is as necessary in governmental affairs as the Chief Executive. As well might the GAZETTE argue that the office of Vice President should be abolished as the one in question. It has cost the people of this State, directly and indirectly, over $300,000 for her Lieutenant-Governor. The duties connected with the office have required but about 130 day's time during the term of four years. Why not select a man from the floor of the Senate to perform the duties of that office instead of electing an officer we do not actually need, and then spending half the session of the Legislature changing laws in order to find a way to pay him a good salary for doing nothing? We are too much governed, and the GAZETTE hopes to see the Legislature give this subject careful, intelligent thought and see if we can't make our government less burdensome.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
 The San Francisco Post says: The beef famine has fairly set in. Cattle are comparatively scarce, but only comparatively, scarce. The Eastern demand on the ranges to which San Francisco looks for its supply has been just large enough to give an excuse to a ring of speculators to get up a corner in cattle. There are cattle enough for the demand, but the trouble is that they are concentrated in the hands of a ring which controls the market. There is yet beef enough in Nevada to keep San Francisco from famine for a long time.

According to the official figures the government has already realized, in the way of revenues from the contract with the Alaska Fur and Seal Company, for the right to catch seals, upwards of $10,000,000, or $3,000,000 more than the purchase money paid to Russia for the entire territory. It is estimated that this company will have paid into the treasury, by the time of the expiration of the contract with the government some eight or nine years hence, fully $20,000,000.

The present boom in Confederate bonds needs no commenting upon. The following from a copy of the Charleston News, published since the late election, shows the feeling: "A large lot of Confederate bonds, being part of the Jacob Barret estate, were sold at auction yesterday by H. H. De Leon. The whole lot, $145,600, was bought by Edward Moreland at $12.50 per $1,000. The bidding, which began at $10 per $1,000, was quite spirited."

Joe Coburn, the pugilist, has been pardoned out of the New York State Prison, to which he had a 10 years' sentence for a murderous assault, and has served five years. It is a safe bet that he will at once make arrangements for a battle with Slugger Sullivan. Coburn lived in Nevada for a time, having kept a saloon in White Pine during the flush days.

About 1,600 cars were loaded with freight at the various shipping points in California in October and forwarded to the East on the northern and southern routes. This is equal to a train of fifty cars for every day of the month. Over two-thirds of the freight was shipped direct from San Francisco.

The Colusa Sun says: J. B. Dunnagan, of Berlin, has a model method of scaring geese. He saws black pine logs and lays them around in the field with a stick across them. Once in a while he goes out, lays down and shoots a few geese, and they imagine that every pine log is a man lying in wait.

State Printer Maddrill has submitted his second and last annual report. It shows that there is $855 42 left from the $10,000 appropriated for establishing the office. Out of the $9,000 appropriated for the support of the office there is $840 28. Mr. Maddrill's management has been honest and economical.

The Postmaster-General decides that a fourth-class postmaster cannot serve as a member of a Legislature, because he would be unable to give proper attention to his office. In other words, in order to be a first-class fourth-class official a man must give the whole of his attention to the mails.

The colored porter of a saloon in San Francisco yesterday shot and killed two hoodlums who entered the establishment with the avowed determination of "cleaning it out." That darkey is entitled to a generous pension.

The Eastern press speak well of the President's message. It is pronounced creditable though not of a high order. An attempt to commit suicide is a felony under the new penal code of New York.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

It is sometimes questioned by merchants whether advertising pays. The question will hardly bear discussion in the light of the following facts, rates for transient advertisements being figured: The Chicago Tribune, it is said, for a column a year receives $25,000. The New York Herald receives for its lowest-priced column $39,723, and for its highest $349,000. The New York Tribune for its lowest $29,764 and for its highest $85,648—and these papers are never at a loss for advertisements to fill their columns. Their patronage comes not from any desire to assist the respective papers, but from business men who find it profitable to advertise.

A firm of manufacturers in Philadelphia placed an advertisement in a journal as an experiment. As they were economical Quakers, they commenced sparingly. Within three months their advertisements were running in seven different publications, and there is no question with them about its paying. As well might an enterprising firm try to save postage as the cost of advertising. Customers go to those who most persistently extend them an invitation.

EASTERN DISPATCHES

Congressional Items.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.
 In the House, Page, from the Commerce Committee, reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for information as to whether the money appropriated by the last River and Harbor bill was appropriated for works or objects not in the interest of commerce, and navigation, and if so, requesting specifications to be furnished. Judging from a long conversation with members of the committee, they are much aggrieved over the views expressed by the President respecting the bill. Some members go as far as to say they will prepare a bill this year with recommendations, the President to the contrary notwithstanding.

In the Senate, petitions of tobacco dealers and manufacturers for rebate equal to the reduction that may be made in the tax on tobacco, were presented by Hall, Miller and Edmunds. Most of the Western members favor two cents postage, and Anderson will offer to amend to begin the next fiscal year.

The House and Senate Agricultural Committee expects to complete the agricultural appropriation bill by Monday.

In the Senate Pendleton asked unanimous consent to take up the civil service bill and make it the special order for Monday. Voorhees objected.

The Panama Canal.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.

The Graphic prints the following: In Washington it is reported that the engineers of the Panama Canal have made a radical change in their plan of operations. The intention of the projectors was to make a sea-level canal from one ocean to the other without locks of any kind. Information now comes out that they have found it impossible for any sum of money which could be raised to overcome the natural difficulties of such an undertaking, and they have decided to adopt an ordinary plan—that of locking up and down the grades. The other scheme involved the operation of digging the canal for some distance through great cuts which would have been several hundred feet deep, involving an amount of excavation the like of which was never attempted by human hands. There were other difficulties about the connection with that part of the canal where the bed of the Chagres river is utilized, which engineers concluded would form a fatal obstruction to the plan originally entered upon.

De Long and Collins.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.

The Navy Department to-day made public extracts from the memorandum of De Long respecting the unpleasant state of feeling which existed between De Long and Jerome Collins. Collins is charged with greeting the Captain with much disrespect, disobeying orders, etc. The extracts say that when Collins went on shore to make observations his practice was to remain longer than was necessary. De Long's charge of disobedience was emphatically denied by Collins, and in a colloquy which ensued, De Long says Collins was curt, contemptuous and disrespectful.

The Jews and the Sunday Law.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.

The police captains of Brooklyn have been instructed not to interfere with barbers next Sunday unless they sell cigars, and not to permit Jews to do business. On the other hand, twelve Hebrews of New York have secured an injunction in suits against the police, restraining the latter from interfering with Sunday labor or service.

Mexican Claims.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.

Application has been made to the Supreme Court of the District to-day for a summons to the Secretary of State requesting him to show cause why he should not pay over to certain claimants money in his possession under what is known as the Ben Weil Mexican claim, which amounts to over $400,000. The claimants fear their rights may be impaired by the treaty with Mexico now pending.

A Jail Delivery.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 8.

This afternoon 11 convicts at work on the penitentiary attacked and disarmed the guard and escaped. They were pursued with bloodhounds, and killed three of them, and night coming on, the pursuit was abandoned. The most noted criminal of the lot is Monroe, of Cincinnati, the safe-blower.

A Story Hard to Believe.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 8.

In the free colored cemetery in the suburbs of this city are at least four layers of dead. In the inclosure the dead are only partially buried. Many are uncoffined, and dogs have been feasting on the remains for many years, and portions of the bodies have been dragged to neighboring farm houses.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

British Cabinet Changes.

LONDON, Dec. 8.

The Times has reason to believe that soon after Christmas Derby will be invited to join the Cabinet; Childers, now War Secretary, will become Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Dilke, Under Foreign Secretary, will enter the Cabinet. It says these changes may be precursors of even more important ones. It is possible that before the end of the next session of Parliament Gladstone may consider himself entitled to retire, and in such a contingency there is little doubt that Hornington will become Prime Minister.

Another Chance for His Neck.

DUBLIN, Dec. 9.

The jury in the case of Patrick Higgins, on trial as principal murderer of the two Huddys, failed to agree. Higgins will be placed on trial again Monday.

The Swedish Nightingale.

Christine Nilsson will pass through Reno to-morrow night in a special car. The great singer will be accompanied by Manager Abbey and her attendant artists and supporters. Mme. Nilsson travels from place to place in sumptuous style, in the same excursion car that has been used by Mary Anderson and Sarah Bernhardt. The car is divided into sleeping, eating, cooking and drawing room compartments. Her boudoir is the smallest, but handsomest room, containing a piano and many choice books and pictures. Sometimes the prima donna plays and sings, and sometimes watches the changing scenery from the windows; but more often she plunges deep into a novel, or studies stereoscopic views, to while away the tedious hours of travel. Perhaps she will consent to stop over here one night and give us a sing. In return for the favor we can show her our Insane Asylum and the site for the new State Prison, with its massive walls nearly completed, to say nothing of the raging Truckee and our brass fire engine, or the hallowed spot where Jones was tarred and feathered.

How to Send Coin by Mail.

A novel way to send silver coin by mail is described as follows: Take a block of wood a little larger than the coin and bore it with an auger—2 1/4 inches for a dollar, 1 1/4 for a half dollar, and one inch for a quarter. Bore the hole as deep as will contain as many pieces as you want to send; fill the hole and tack a thin piece of wood over the block. Write the address, put on the requisite stamp and deposit in the postoffice.

Carson Clerks.

When a Reno woman was shown a picture of Lydia Pinkham, and informed that it was a portrait of Mrs. Langtry, the English beauty, she looked at it with a critic's eye a few seconds and then replied, "Well, I've seen as pretty women right here in this town."

The heavens last night were streaked at times with banners of fleecy mist—or something else of that sort—that moved about in a lively manner, like young northern lights. Some people thought the milky way had split up and was on a spree.

Mershon has shown himself to be a faithful nightwatchman and is well liked by all who have occasion to be out late at night, except, perhaps, troublesome tramps and squaw men, to whom he has become a terror. It is noticed that there is not so much rowdiness along Commercial Row as there used to be.

Injured by a Premature Blast. James Twaddle met with a very painful accident to-day while blasting rock on the line of an irrigating ditch the farmers near Franktown are building. It seems that Twaddle was putting in a blast when it exploded prematurely, destroying both his eyes and severely cutting his head and face. He was found in an insensible condition. The extent of his injuries are not yet known, but they are thought to be fatal.

A PETRIFIED CORPSE.

Peccolities of the Paradise Burying Ground.

A correspondent of the Silver State writes from Paradise that about three and a half years ago the remains of Mrs. Deffenbaugh were buried in the Odd Fellows' cemetery in that valley.

Last week Mr. Deffenbaugh, the husband, and Andrew Hogan, a brother of the deceased lady, with two other men, disinterred the body for the purpose of removing it to Fort Scott, Kansas. It took four strong men to raise the coffin, and greatly to the astonishment of the men, they found the body as natural as when it was buried. The hair had grown several inches, and there was no signs of decomposition or offensive odor about the body; but though nothing was done at the time to ascertain if it was petrified, yet as there were no signs of decay and the body was unusually heavy, those who saw it are now satisfied that it was.

Dan De Quille's Last Steamboat. The Enterprise of this morning contains the following astronomical vagary: A man who was appointed watchman at a mine on the Comstock had no watch. He did not wish to buy one, yet was desirous of knowing how time was passing. He borrowed the watch of a friend for one night. On returning the watch the next day he told his friend that he was all right now, that he had a time-keeper of his own. He then unrolled a strip of paper, some four inches in width from a stick and exhibited it as his clock. On this strip of paper he had marked down, as they rose above the horizon, all the stars and constellations within a narrow belt. Opposite each star was the time of its making its appearance—hour and minute. The watchman says his watch is a fine time-keeper. He has recently improved it somewhat. The slip of paper now runs on two small rollers that are placed in a small box which has a sliding lid of glass. As the night wears away and the stars pass over, he now turns the crank of his watch and looks at the time marked by the side of each. To wind up his watch he runs the tape back upon the initial roller.

Illiteracy in Nevada.

Census Bulletin No. 303, recently issued from the Department of the Interior, shows that of 25,600 native white persons of the age of 10 years and upwards in Nevada, only 240 are unable to write; and of the 19,935 foreign-born citizens of the age of 10 years and upwards in the State, 1,975 are unable to write. There were 8,071 colored persons of 10 years and upwards enumerated by the census takers in Nevada, of whom 2,154 are returned as unable to write. These include Chinese, and Indians who live on ranches. The percentage of illiteracy among native whites of 10 years and upwards is less than the general average of other States.

Holiday Goods.

I. Fredrick is receiving a large lot of holiday goods, consisting in part of silver jewel caskets—very neat—caskets, cake baskets, silver wine and drinking cups of all kinds, water pitchers, butter dishes, pickle jars, toilet sets, nut bowls, spoon holders with call bell combined. His entire stock is of the latest designs and very complete. His stock of jewelry surpasses any he has carried in former years. If a nice Christmas present cannot be found at his store there is no need of going elsewhere for it can't be had on the coast.

Resisting an Officer.

Officer Mershon arrested a couple of fellows the other night for being drunk and disorderly. While making the arrest a young man, well-known, made himself a little too fresh and was requested by the arresting officer to appear before Judge Young and answer to the charge of resisting an officer. Out of respect to the young man's family the GAZETTE will mention no name; but he should take warning.
